ELECTRICITY IN THE EARTH.

Is It the Awful Force That Will Finally Destroy the World?

"Take a spade, turn up a small quantity of soil, hold a portion in your hand, hold it to your ear, then smell it. You will observe first a slight motion, hear a faint sound as of the moving of distant timber, and readily notice the odor of heat. Do you know that the forces held in your hand are from electricity; that the earth for three feet deep is alive with the invisible power and forms the secret of vegetable life? Waves of electricity are constantly passing through the soil in unseen billows, thus keeping the soil from souring, as the billows of the ocean keep the waters from becoming stagnant. To demonstrate this fact, go to some rock-bound pool, dip out a small quantity of the polluted water, place it in a bottle, cork and set aside in a warm place for a short time. Then take the bottle into a dark room, shake the bottle, draw out the cork, and you will see tiny forks of blue lightning shoot out from the bottle, and if you keep perfectly quiet you will hear faint mutterings like thunder. This comes from the flintlike rocks preventing the unbroken flow of electricity through the soil and from the air becoming charged and emptying itself into the water.

"Electricity, as is being gradually shown, is fire—the fire of friction, if you will, the first known by the inhabitants of our globe. Look at an iron lamp and see its combined sparks as they emit from the carbon as carefully that they are taken for a regular dose of the dazzling light. In the same way, the charge of electricity will keep an accumulating until some commotion of the earth will cause it to ignite, when, in the twinkling of an eye, our world, with all it contains, will be enveloped and consumed by a conflagration that will startle if not frighten the inhabitants of other planets as they look down upon the flaming mass and see burn up one of the greatest works of the Almighty's creation."—Philadelphia Times.

Where Moslems Are Most Numerous.

Far in advance of any other nation in the number of the Moslems under its rule is Great Britain. In India alone there are about 60,000,000 Mohammedans, and they outnumber all the subjects of the sultan more than two to one. Besides, England rules Mohammedans in other parts of her vast empire, though not many in any one place. The queen is the sovereign of many millions more Moslems than Christians.

China is believed to contain next as a country inhabited by many followers of the prophet. The number of Mohammedans in the Chinese empire is estimated at the very least from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000, and the smallest of the processes is more than Turkey can match. Holland also has nearly or quite 30,000,000 Moslem subjects in her populous and rich East Indian possessions. Java has fully 25,000,000 people, and nearly all of them are Mohammedans.

The Turkish empire is supposed to contain about 23,000,000 Moslems, occupying the portion of Arabia in which the authority of the sultan is not very well established and is in danger of being destroyed at any time. Therefore it is apparent that unless great error has been made in estimating the number of Mohammedans in the Chinese empire the sultan is only fourth among rulers of great bodies of men and women who believe in Mohammed.

But among other countries which are dominated by the Moslem element are their population and are under the sway of a Mohammedan ruler the Turkish empire is easily first in numbers and in power for evil.—Cleveland Leader.

The Danger of Silence.

I once had a case (said a member of the bar) against a man in the country which was as clear as daylight in my favor, but by the cunning of his lawyer, he had continued to avoid coming to trial for about two years.

At last the case was called, late in the term and late in a hot day, the court and jury tired and impatient. I stated the facts and produced the evidence, which was all on my side.

The judge asked the counsel whether they wished to argue the case, stating that he hardly thought it necessary to submit it in so plain a matter. The lawyers agreed to submit it without argument. The jury went out and immediately returned with a verdict for the defendant.

As soon as the court adjourned I sought the foreman of the jury, and asked him how in the name of common sense they came to render such a verdict. "Why, you see," said he, "we didn't think much of the lawyer against you, and it wasn't strange he didn't have nothing to say; but, squire, the fact is we thought you was about one of the smartest lawyers in the country, and if you couldn't find nothing to say on your side it must be a pretty hard case, so we had to go against you."—Pearson's Weekly.

CONGRESS DOING NOTHING

When Mr. Reed received the nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives, he said this Congress would go into history for what it did not do. Whether he meant that it would be historically condemned by the people of the United States for not passing the free coinage bill, or for not passing an act prohibiting the issuance of bonds in times of peace with abundance of money in the treasury, or for some other equally outrageous omission, has not yet been disclosed. However, Congress has now been in session very nearly three months and it has done nothing to relieve the unparalleled commercial and industrial depression. Buncombe speeches have been delivered in the House on the Monroe doctrine by fire-cracker statesmen, who uphold the financial policy of a foreign gold syndicate, for the purpose of deluding their constituents into the belief that they are intensely patriotic, while sanctioning a system that is reducing American citizens to the condition of serfs.

In all these three months there has been nothing but talk, talk, talk! The only things that Mr. Reed's House has suggested for the relief of the country are bills for the issuance of more bonds and an increase of duty on a few articles of which we do not produce a sufficient quantity to supply the home demand. Does the majority of the House of Representatives, which passed those two bills under the gag rules without discussion, think that issuing more bonds to the gold men and creating an artificial price for a few of the necessities of life by increasing the duty on those articles will restore prosperity to the country? Is there a rational, reasoning person in the United States who thinks so? No, not one. The disease from which the country suffers is too deep-seated to be eradicated by such quack specifics, and unless Congress makes a better diagnosis of the case and prescribes better remedies, it should adjourn and go home.

It is not expected that the House will adjourn without passing resolutions relating to an international monetary conference. This is the usual time, just before a Presidential election, for calling such a conference. It is well known that it does no good, nor is it expected to, but it deceives some people, and the House this year, with its record of over two to one against silver, will resort to all the deceptive practices that demagogues can devise, to deceive the voters at the Presidential election.

THE CATHODE RAY.

Scientists and medical men particularly and the public generally are discussing the cathode or "X" ray and its adaptation to the art of photography as discovered by Professor Roentgen of Germany. What is now known of the ray demonstrates the simplicity of many of the so-called mysteries of nature. It shows that there are substances more sensitive to vibrations of rays of light than the human eye.

The most satisfactory explanation of the discovery is that some material substances which are opaque, so far as human vision can determine, are yet transparent to vibrations of light so delicate that the eye cannot detect them. The eye is sufficiently sensitive to take cognizance of light vibrations through glass, water and many other substances, but it is oblivious to rays passing through wood or the hand, though we know that they do pass through such substances and others of greater density and apparent opacity. The cathode rays pass through flesh, wood and other opaque substances, so that photographs of the bones can be taken through the flesh, and the discovery of the fact that they do open a field of investigation so vast as to be incomprehensible. Bullets or other foreign substances in the human body of greater density than flesh or bone can be photographed and their exact location determined by the surgeon. Flaws in wood, iron, steel and other materials, where solidity is of the greatest importance, can be discovered in the same manner. A new field is opened to the scientist and the physician or surgeon, and it is probable that experiments will disclose a method of determining by photography the exact condition of every organ, muscle and bone in the system of living animals.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

This is the 164th anniversary of the birth of the immortal Washington, the father of his country and the first President of the United States. He was born in Westmoreland county, Virginia, February 22 (old style February 11), 1732. He commanded the American forces in the war for independence, and was twice elected President of the United States by the unanimous vote of the electoral college. Toward the close of his second term he formed the irrevocable purpose of retiring from public life, and on September 17, 1796, issued his "Farewell Address" which might be read with profit to the people in every town and village in the country on every anniversary of his birthday.

As a soldier and a statesman Washington commanded the respect of friends and foes. He sought no pension from the people for his services as a soldier and believed that eight years was as long as one man should occupy the Presidential chair in this Republic. In this respect, as well as in many others, he differed from modern statesmen of less ability and more egotism.

but it is now the unwritten law of the land that while Republican principles survive, no man will be Chief Executive a longer time than George Washington.

Washington's birthday is celebrated as a national holiday. There are military and civic parades, firing salutes, public addresses and various other ways of commemorating the birth of the man "who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

REV. DR. BROWN.

Mrs. Stockton Tells the Council How He Treated Her.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 21.—At the session of the Council of Ministers to investigate the charges of immorality against Rev. Dr. Brown, Mrs. Stockton went on the stand and testified that Dr. Brown had been unduly intimate with her and that their relations were known to Mrs. Brown. Dr. Brown had sent her a note asking her to meet him at his office. She went and found Mrs. Brown with a note in her hand. There was a stormy scene and Dr. Brown confessed and asked her to forgive him, promising to reform. Mrs. Stockton said Dr. Brown wanted to leave his wife and marry her. Mrs. Stockton said that Dr. Brown had kissed her and had taken liberties with her. They had gone on long walks and had dined at the Maison Riche, a French restaurant. Once while she was sick in her room with grippe Dr. Brown had called and kissed her. Later she said that Brown had wronged her. On cross-examination, Rev. Williams, a member of the council, asked her if she had met Dr. Brown in other places than the one she had already mentioned, and if their relations had been those of husband and wife. Mrs. Stockton started to answer, but her attorney interrupted her and told her not to answer unless the reporters present would agree not to publish the answer. Dr. Brown objected to this, saying that the papers had been putting everything against him, and he did not see why Mrs. Stockton should be favored. He wanted all the facts made public.

The council decided that Mrs. Stockton's answer should not be made public, and said that if the reporters would agree not to publish it they would be allowed to remain. Dr. Brown thereupon declared that he had not promised secrecy and that he would publish Mrs. Stockton's answer if she made it. Mr. Williams then withdrew the question, and Dr. Brown said he would not divulge anything Mrs. Stockton did not wish published. The council then excluded all reporters.

HUNTINGTON UNDER FIRE

Dividends Paid by the Central Pacific. WASHINGTON, February 21.—The Senate Committee on Pacific Roads was in session to-day, with C. P. Huntington still on the stand and Senator Morgan acting as interrogator-in-chief. The inquiry was continued on the lines of the report made by the Pattison Commission. Huntington asserted that many statements made in the report were the result of mere street talk in San Francisco. He was asked if it was true, as stated in the late Senator Stanford's testimony before the Commission, that Huntington, Stanford, Hopkins and Crocker each received $13,000,000 in stock after they completed the Central Pacific. He replied that this statement did not accord with his recollection.

The four received $45,000,000 in stock in the aggregate, and it had been divided equally. Senator Morgan pressed the inquiry regarding the destruction of the books of the Contract and Finance Company, and quoted the statement of witnesses who told the Pattison Commission that the books were then in existence. Huntington declared that they were not, and said that the witnesses who had given this testimony were unreliable. "Are you," asked Senator Morgan, "indifferent to public opinion?" "I am satisfied," Huntington replied, "if one man thinks well of me, and that man is C. P. Huntington."

Huntington stated that the Central Pacific had paid in dividends two million each to himself, Crocker, Hopkins and Stanford. The Committee adjourned until Friday to give Huntington an opportunity to examine the Pattison report. Huntington said that he was satisfied that the public would judge him by what he had done for the people rather than by the reports compiled against him. Morgan said that he was confident that Congress would accept the statements made by the Pattison Commission unless Huntington could refute them.

To Investigate Carlisle.

WASHINGTON, February 21.—Representative Colson to-day introduced in the House a resolution to investigate the action of Secretary Carlisle refusing to accept the bid of William Graves for $4,500,000 bonds at 115,3901.

Fratricide

NASHVILLE, Tenn., February 21.—E. R. Campbell was shot and killed by his son Robert to-day. The murderer is considered unsound mentally.

FELONY NOTES.

The gold reserve is now $105,030,843. A gambler named Ryan shot and killed Tommy Ward, a railroad employee, in the Tiger Saloon at Redding, California. Robbers entered the bank at McLaughlin, Kansas, blew the safe open, secured $35,000, stole a team and drove to Lawrence and escaped on a train. William Waldorf Astor, who spends the money in London which he made in the United States, is to marry the widow of Lord Randolph Churchill.

A. D. Gilbert was hanged at Boston yesterday for the murder of Alice Sterling, a little girl, last April. He hacked the head of his victim with an ax.

The Fitzsimmons-Maher prize-fight took place yesterday at Langtry, Texas. Maher was knocked out in the first round in one minute and thirty-five seconds. Corbett intends to challenge the winner.

A. Butterfield, a commission merchant at Chicago, said to be worth $500,000, committed suicide by cutting his throat, inflicting wounds which proved fatal. He lived without the ordinary comforts of life, his main desire being to accumulate wealth.

A desperate fight occurred on one of the principal streets of San Jose with highway robbers. Seventeen shots were fired, and, although the streets were crowded with people, only one of the robbers was wounded. Several people narrowly escaped being struck by the flying bullets.

Ivan Kovalev was hanged at Folsom prison yesterday for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. L. Weber at Sacramento. Kovalev was a Russian convict who with others were picked up at sea, having escaped from Sanghalein in an open boat. He partially confessed at his trial that he murdered the Webers.

The suit of A. A. Blithen of the Minneapolis Tribune against President Lowery of the Minneapolis & St. Paul Railway system for $200,000 was decided yesterday in favor of the defendant. Plaintiff claimed that Lowery agreed to make good any losses he, plaintiff, might sustain in the Tribune, but instead sold the paper to W. J. Murphy without plaintiff's consent.

A Cowboy on a Bike. James McGoss tackled a bike yesterday, and after a few headers and several frantic efforts to keep the blame from running into cellars and over fences, he took his bandana and blinded the wheel in true backaroo style and then went for it again. After a couple of hours he became expert enough to ride the length of Virginia street, providing he had the whole street to himself and a couple of the cattle boys posted at the Second street crossing to head him off so he would not turn the corner. Jim is a terror on a bronco and says if they'll let him put a Spanish bit on the wheel and give him a pair of rowels, he'll break it so a lady can ride it.

Artistic Work. Captain Ames of the Salvation Army exhibits two oil portraits in Sunderland's window, representing himself and wife in army dress. They are splendid paintings and prove that the Captain is an artist of ability. The Captain and Mrs. Ames are ordered to another field and will hold their farewell meeting on Tuesday evening next. During their residence in Reno they have accomplished much good, and their many friends will regret their departure.

DIED. BAUGH—In Reno, February 21, 1896, William W. Baugh, a native of Pennsylvania, aged 65 years.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore an important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists. If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

PROPOSALS WANTED.

BIDS ARE WANTED BY THE REMOREAL Estate and Investment Company for the erection of its new building on the corner of Second and Sierra streets, according to the plans and specifications now on file in the office of the Secretary, at the Washoe County Bank. All bids must be in by the 6th day of March, 1896. The successful bidder will be required to give satisfactory bonds for the faithful performance of the contract. The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all bids. For order of the Trustees, F. M. LEE, Secretary. Reno, Feb. 20, 1896.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF Charles Frost, deceased. To the creditors and all persons having claims against the estate of Charles Frost, deceased, notice is hereby given to present their claims to the undersigned administrator of said estate, with the necessary vouchers, within four months from the first publication of this notice, at his office on west side of Virginia street, in Reno, Nevada, to the said estate, which will be forever barred, if not so presented will be forever barred. JOHN B. WILLIAMS, Administrator. Dated Feb. 20, 1896.

HAS NEVER ONCE FAILED.

Paine's Celery Compound Gave Mrs. Porter Back Her Strength.

These sharp, raw, capricious days of February are blamed for much sickness that is simply the direct result of nervous weakness.

Perfect health will keep one above any depressing influence from the weather. Pure, richer blood and better fed nervous tissues will make people feel well even in February.

During his many years of hard and wonderful work, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, Dartmouth's great professor, had in mind the thousands who were weak and run down. His study of the many cases of nervous prostration, neuritis, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and debility led him to that most marvelous discovery of the century, Paine's Celery Compound.

In every city, as well as in the small villages scattered through this country, are men and women who for years have relied upon Paine's Celery Compound whenever they found themselves weak and out of health. Hundreds of letters like the following from Mrs. Porter of New York City, tell how this great medicine has kept them well and strong.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3, 1896.

MESSES. WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

Dear Sirs:—For several years I have used Paine's Celery Compound whenever I found myself running down in health. During that time I have recommended it frequently to my friends and I know of many persons who have been much benefited by it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, and take great pleasure in expressing to you my belief that it does a great work for humanity.

Mrs. M. PORTER, 282 Eighth Ave.

Mrs. Porter's experience is like thousands of others. Paine's Celery Compound made her well, because it fed the starved nerves and blood and regulates their functions. Try it and be convinced of its remarkable power to cure disease.

Color Blind.

John Dalton, without whose discovery of the laws of chemical combination chemistry as an exact science could hardly exist, was wholly color blind.
His knowledge of the fact came about by a happening of the sort which we call chance. On his mother's birthday, when he was a man of 26, he took her a pair of stockings which he had seen in a shop window labeled:

"Silk, and newest fashion."

"These have bought me a pair of grand hose, John," said the mother, "but what made these fancy such a bright color? Why, I can never show myself at meeting in them."

John was much disconcerted, but he told her that he considered the stockings to be of a very proper color to meeting color, as they were a dark bluish drab.

"Why, they're red as a cherry, John,"

was her astonished reply.

Neither he nor his brother Jonathan could recollecting but drab in the stockings, and they rested in the belief that the good wife's eyes were out of order until she, having consulted various neighbors, returned with the verdict,

"Varn due stuff, but uncommon scar-leig."

The consequence was that John Dalton became almost the first to direct the attention of the scientific world to the subject of color blindness.—Youth's Companion.

Sure of It This Time.

"John! John!"

Mr. Billis ceased snoring.

"What's the matter, Maria?"

"There's a man in the house. Listen!"

"What?"

"I heard a heavy foot on the stairway."

Mr. Billis listened a moment.

"I don't hear anything."

"I do. There—I heard it again!"

There was no response but a snore.

"John!"

Another snore.

"John Billis, are you afraid to get up?"

No response.

Mrs. Billis lay down again.

"If you can stand it to have the house robbed," she exclaimed wrathfully, "I can."

At the end of half an hour she spoke again:

"John!"

No answer.

"John Billis!"

"What's the matter now?"

"I was mistaken. There wasn't any man in the house. And there isn't any man in the house now, either. Hear that, do you?"—Chicago Tribune.

Glory Sufficient.

The barber's trade is everywhere recognized as honorable, but The Commercial Bulletin tells a story of one man who had peculiar reasons for magnifying his office.

There was once a hairdresser in Boston who numbered among his patrons many gentlemen of the medical profession. One day, when operating upon one of them, he broke forth in great glee:

"Vat you diuk, degtor? I haf been to dot hospital, and while I wait to go up and cut a man's hair I see marble busts of de doctors. Deto was Degtor Storer and dere was Degtor Pegeelow mit de vig I dress for him dese dwenty years, in marble. Diuk of dot! Von of my vigs in marble!"

Informatic For the Teacher.

The teacher was asking questions—
teachers are quite apt to ask questions, and they sometimes receive curious answers. This question was as follows:

"Now, pupils, how many months have 28 days?"

"All of them, teacher," replied the boy on the front seat.—Utica Observer.

The Schoolboy and the Inspector.

In an Edinburgh school the other day an inspector, wishing to test the knowledge of a class in fractions, asked one boy whether he would rather take a sixth or a seventh part of an orange if he got his choice. The boy promptly replied that he would take the seventh.

At this the inspector explained at length to the class that the boy who would choose the smaller part as this boy had done because it looked the larger fraction was very foolish, but the laugh was on the other side when the chirping voice of another urchin broke in in remonstrance, "Please, sir, but that boy disna like oranges."—Westminster Gazette.

The Scoffer.

Watts—Do you really believe that every sin is followed by punishment?

Potts—Of course. For instance, when some man steals a million or so dollars, don't a lot of people have to starve as a consequence?—Indianapolis Journal.

Unprepared to Say.

"Don't you think," said Miss Simmon, "that Theodore Thomas is the best conductor in the country?" and old Mrs.
Flat replied thoughtfully:

"(Well, I duno as I ever rid in his car."—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

A Shock to His Complacency.

James—Why is it every one laughs at me?

James—They don't. Some one was a humorist you.—Adams Freeman.
